

Red Lea

Farm fresh chickens

History

Red Lea Chickens Pty Ltd commenced as a fresh chicken operation in 1957, in Sydney, Australia and is still located at the original site although quite a few upgrades and extensions have occurred over the years as the Company has grown. Red Lea Chickens is majority owned by the Asif family and jointly managed with the Velcich family. The company's belief that "Fresh Is Best" has formed the basis of Red Lea Chicken's production and it is now regarded as "The Better Tasting Chicken".

Red Lea Chickens processing factory at Blacktown is situated in the heart of Sydney's West, approximately 35 kilometres from Sydney's CBD. Red Lea Chickens has its own breeder rearing farms. These breeders provide the broilers which are then placed onto Contract Broiler Grower farms and the birds are reared to about 55 days of age before being transported to our factory site at Blacktown for processing. All chickens are processed in accordance with Government and International regulations. This covers plant hygiene, quality assurance, animal welfare standards and regular inspections by State authorities. Red Lea Chickens has a HACCP system in place to ensure quality & freshness of product. Red Lea Chickens are HALAL Certified, HACCP, SQF V6, SGS certified, NSW Food Authority licenced and have Free Range Accreditation.

Most of the products produced by Red Lea Chickens have been value added. Red Lea Chickens is always developing new and tastier products in their gourmet and smallgoods range as a means of keeping in touch with changing consumer needs.

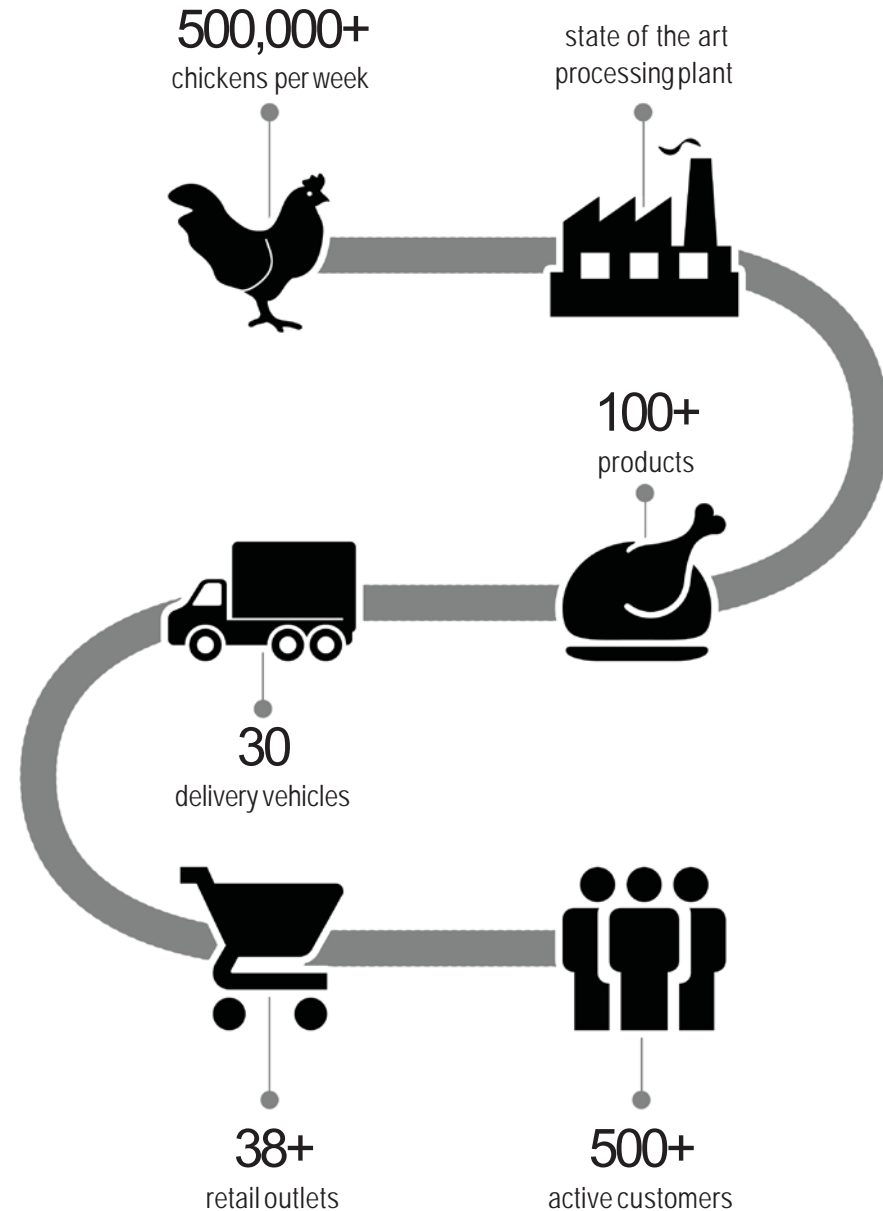

Our policy at Red Lea Chickens is to take pride in our product to give you "The Better Tasting Chicken".

Introduction

What a fantastic vision the founders had in 1957 to start such an iconic brand as Red Lea Chickens. From humble beginnings of selling poultry products door to door, to having a network of 38 stores, employing more than 500 people and a state of the art processing plant that still remains on the original location today along with breeder farms in various locations.

Red Lea Chickens products are sold to Wholesalers, Supermarkets, Butchers, Restaurants, Hotels and Clubs. Red Lea Chickens also has Franchised Retail Outlets that sell direct to the public. These specialty Chicken Outlets have been described as a “Food Lovers Delight” selling both fresh & cooked chicken products. Currently all 38 stores are predominately based in NSW, located in major shopping centres. With more than 500,000 chickens through the processing plant per week enabling Red Lea Chickens to deliver fresh product to customer stores daily - giving the consumers “The Better Tasting Chicken”. With Red Lea Chickens franchised stores being the ideal model selling a full range of fresh and cooked poultry products, including a large selection of meals which services the consumer all day for their poultry needs, thus setting us apart from our competitors. Red Lea Chickens is expanding its business to international markets mainly in Europe, The Middle East and Asia. Red Lea Chickens intends to grow its franchised business to other major cities in Australia i.e. Melbourne, Brisbane, Canberra, Adelaide, Perth, Gold Coast etc.

“All our chicken comes fresh from our farms direct to you”.

Why Us?

Red Lea Chickens has a unique concept which allows us to control the complete process from breeding, rearing, processing and delivering to the market place fresh on a daily basis. Red Lea Chickens is unique in controlling the whole process from “paddock to plate”.

Farming Guidelines

All our Breeder and Broiler chickens are licenced with NSW Food Authority and meet national and state Meat Chicken Farming Guidelines.

Animal Welfare

We also comply with the latest edition on Model Code for the Welfare of Animals/Domestic Poultry.

Feed

We source all our Poultry Feed from the leading Stock feed Suppliers in Australia. These suppliers endeavour to source non-GM ingredients.

Wellington Farm

Red Lea Chickens breeder/rearing farms are located at Bodangora, NSW Australia consisting of 12 sheds with a land area of 155 Hectares.

Breeder Farms

Red Lea Chickens breeder farms are located in New South Wales, Australia. The breeder farms are at Wellington, Tamworth, Menangle, Mandalong and Mount Faulk.

The key to success in rearing breeder chicks (“breeders”) lies in a systematic and efficient management program, which commences with the breeder chicks being placed in a clean and sanitised poultry house.

During the life of a breeder, critical management areas include feeding, temperature, bodyweight control, ventilation, lighting controls and health will greatly enhance the performance and overall welfare of the breeders.

The rearing period generally takes place from day old to 24 weeks of age in poultry houses equipped with facilities to broodbirds.

The egg production phase generally takes place from around 25 weeks of age through to 64 weeks of age. Throughout this phase, eggs are laid continually, collected either by hand or by automated collection systems and stored in a controlled environment until transported to the hatchery.
